the phagocytes: "Just then a lot of our newborn brothers began crawling upon me, and I was so overcome with grief to remonstrate we saw away to the rear a great commotion. A fight and a retreat followed. I was so overcome with grief at this horrible kind of behavior that I was the most horrible kind. There at the head of a tide of blood were columns of phagocytes pushing me in various directions. In a general way they were swallowing them and growling lustier as the process would race down the current with a swift stroke, and the fish would be in the mixer before he behind. Then the arm of the phagocyte would shorten and, as it seemed to me, the phagocyte would be in the mixer before the food, dragging the germ with it. Sometimes a phagocyte would grow faceted and would bump against the mixer, and the food would slide out of the road. Away would go the poor germ, swimming fast in order to avoid the mixer.

"Make for me a red cell," he called as we went forward.

"What," said I, "red cell? We have just come from one."

"Never mind," he replied. "I'll find it myself and enter your way inside. It is our only chance. See, the others are doing it."

"Sure enough, many of my brethren had selected good red blood cells and were now putting them up in their bottles to clean your blood and keep it clean by taking up all the dirt and impurities from the body. Will you look at our stock of clothing? Some facts. Look at these prices: Men's suits, black cheviot, $50.00—good value. Suits, blue serge, $50.00—good value. $8; best worth $10. $10 worth $12.50; $12 worth $15; $13 worth $18. Spring overcoats, $10. This is our price—why pay $12 gained our freedom, but it was better than death. So we looked for cells. Every cell we came to, however, was being occupied, and it seemed to me that the phagocytes were gaining on us when my companion suddenly pulled me to one side and cried:

"Look out! Look out! Keep away from that current near the center there. It is worse than death!"

"What is it? I cried, for I could see nothing.

"Don't you see?" he said, hogging the wall of the tunnel, "there it is, that discolored streak running near the center of the stream? It is caused by the phagocytes and germs' furnishing goods. Johnson Bros. Cor. Mill and Wood streets, Bristol, Penn."

McKinley and Bryan will again doff the gloves to determine who has the right to the White House apartments. The Nebraska has been in training for four years, and is acknowledged to have better wind. The Ohio favorite is far superior in head work.

The conferees appointed by the Republican

Chairman of Bucks and Montgomery counties for the purpose of arranging the details of holding the conventions for the selection of National Delegates and the nominating of a Congressman will meet at the Bingham House, Philadelphia, on Saturday afternoon.

The Wayne Suburban gives notice in its issue of last week that after March 1 the subscription price of that paper will be reduced from $1.00 to $1.50 per year. The rapid advance in the price of print paper, which has increased nearly 100 per cent. in the past four months, is given as the chief cause for raising the subscription price.

A Montgomery county exchange, with more enthusiasm than knowledge declares that the State of Delaware has two Senators, but only one Congressman, while Pennsylvania has thirty Congressmen and only one Senator. Will our esteemed contemporary convey the information as to whom is Senator Kenney's colleague in the upper branch of Congress?

The Jenkintown Times-Chronicle says one of the most remarkable examples of municipal ownership in the United States is shown by the town reports of Elmhurst, Ind. Incandescent electric lights are furnished to residents for 15 cents a month and to business houses for 20 cents a month, for sixteen candle power. Waterworks are also operated at an annual cost of $1 to each consumer, and a complete and perfect telephone exchange is maintained with a monthly rental of 40 cents. These are municipal enterprises all self-supporting.

The items of alleged political news that find their way into the newspapers of the Seventh Congressional district, are at least amusing. Mr. Mayne will not doubt be surprised to learn of the following concerning himself, which appeared in the Haboro

Spirit:

In their efforts to get a candidate for Congress to stand against Hon. J. E. Wanger, some lower Bucks counties have hit upon William C. Mayne, a brilliant young Philadelphia lawyer, who resides in Bristol county. Mr. Mayne, however, is only recognizing the fact that this is not Bucks county's year. His opportunity may come later.

Brother Addison, editor of the esteemed Hafeld Invaluable, is of the opinion that some editors would be better employed at the case of regulating "impressions" than spraying their time attempting to mould public opinion. Our esteemed Hafeld contemporary is possessed of abilities which make him likewise a good mouder and a first-class printer, but he should not be too hard on the fellows whose hands have not had an equal training. The day of the one-man office is rapidly becoming a memory.

The Invaluable says:

If some editors would put as much time on the mechanical part of their papers, as they do in writing political editorials, their papers would certainly be more appreciated by their advertisers and subscribers, or else they send a mere apology of a paper, in the way of an exchange, each week that leads us to criticize their publications.

Florida has again suffered this winter by an attack of freezing weather. At Altam, on last Saturday there was a fall of snow with the thermometer at 25. Sunday morning in Jacksonville the thermometer was 16 above. Thousands of flies were kept burning Saturday night, all day Sunday and Monday night in groves all over Florida in efforts to save the trees. The trees, as a rule, were in good condition to withstand a freeze, and this fact will prevent serious damage, but the effect of the cold cannot be ascertained till warm weather comes. Truck growers will lose heavily all through the State. The thermometer registered 25 degrees at Orlando Saturday night. Practically all tender vegetables are destroyed. The strawberry crop has suffered somewhat. The orange, peach and pineapple output will be shortened. There was freezing temperature at Tampa.

Notwithstanding all the untimely which has been heaped upon the head of the State Treasurer, by some of the Philadelphia newspapers and their rural satellites, Mr. Deacon has rendered a fine report of the condition of the State treasury, which should cause the big and little editors to hang their heads with shame. The distribution of the school appropriation for the current fiscal year ending May 31 next has been completed. The Wauwauker press in Philadelphia a few weeks ago accusing the Treasurer of unlawfully withholding the school appropriation from that city. Mr. Deacon sheds light upon that incident as follows:

A controller report, of Philadelphia, says in his annual report that on December 31, 1899 the State owed the city of Philadelphia over $1,200,000 and criticized the State officials for their failure to comply with the law, etc.

The fact that on the 31st of December Philadelphia did not pay in all of her personal property tax to the State, and was not in position to have any of it returned legitimately, is a fact which is in the report.

I have simply to state that Controller Watson knew the law, for he cited it in his report.

And he also knew the fact that the city did not pay over to the State the full amount of tax, for I was present when the City Treasurer told him it could not be paid until after that date, and gave him reasons for it that seem to me to be convincing.

Philadelphia paid the balance due on her personal property tax for 1899 on January 8, 1900, and within thirty-two days from that date the Auditor General had mailed warrants for the return of $500,000, leaving a balance due to the city less than the city owed the State on another account, and which is a pleasant unexpected thing. As to the balance of the school appropriation due the city on December 31, to-wit: $200, 000, I can only say that I had paid $500,000 on that appropriation into the city treasury, and I know of no reason why this is a phantom of all her school appropriation before December 31, unless all the other districts of the State are in full before that time also, which is a pleasant unexpected thing.

The balance due the city on her school appropriation was paid in January and the school year does not end until May 31.

Owing to the advance in the price of white paper many newspapers throughout the country are raising the price of their subscriptions.

Dr. William James W. Bartlett, of Doylestown, started for Providence, R. I., last Saturday morning to attend the funeral of his brother, George W. Bartlett.

Because of the high price of structural iron and other building materials, the Montgomery County Commissioners have decided to postpone the enlarging of the Court House

All the holders of liquor licenses in Mont-dealers, one distillery, three bottlers and one agent.

An announcement is made of the engage-near future.

The Bucks, Montgomery and Chester

County League is holding its annual con-Phoenixville, today. There will be an an-morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

two months.

Upon the recommendation of Congressman

Wagner and Naval Officer Holland, the President on Monday appointed Cyrus E. Hipple as postmaster of Philadelphia. Mr. Hipple will succeed John Casey, whose term expires

March 4. Until recently John S. Hipple, the father of the appointee, was slated for the postmastership. He, however, suddenly lost his power of speech, and after repeated efforts on the part of doctors to restore his voice had failed, he withdrew his application and his son became a candidate.

Sale of Stock and Implements.

A public sale of the stock and farm implements belonging to Robert Lee and next Saturday. For particulars see advertisement.

Appointments Deferred.

The Census Department at Washington has requested Supervisor U. Smith Talbot to make an appointment of census takers, statutions, and interpreters until the month of April. Mr. Talbot had intended performing the duty as soon as possible, but under the circumstances he will be obliged to wait for a while. The work of the census takers will perhaps not be as easy as many anticipate—in fact, it will be quite complicated—and will require permits of more than ordinary intelligence to perform it properly.

Lower End Carpenters Organize.

The carpenters of Langhorne, Hulmeville and Attleboro held a meeting at the latter place Wednesday evening of last week, with the object in view of effecting a union, and fixing the rate of pay at twenty per cent.

higher. At present this class of mechanics in lower Bucks county gets $2.50 per day of one hour, and it was the unanimous opinion of the present that on and after April 1 the wages shall be $2.70.

The organization was effected by electing Harry

H. Higer chairman and George W. Cutler

George G. Fetter. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

Smoked Her Pipe at 103.

Mrs. Catherine Watts, of West Rockhill

104th year.

Mrs. Watts has been in good health up to a few weeks ago, when she suffered a stroke of apoplexy, which caused her death. She smoked her pipe regularly all her life and during her last illness until two days before her death.

Five generations of the Watts family will mourn her loss. Her descendants are scatlive in Philadelphia. Mrs. Watts retained her vitality to a remarkable degree. Last summer she helped neighbors with their
